FRONTIER FAME & FORTUNE SEEKERS

SKAGWAY, ALASKA

Skagway, or 'windy place' in the native Tlingit language, was known as the gateway to the gold fields during the Klondike Gold Rush of 1897, and for many years after that. Relive the excitement of that era at the Klondike Gold Fields, where you'll see mining tents, dog sleds, an authentic dredge that extracted gold from the sand and gravel, and various exhibits with costumed characters. Learn the art of panning for gold yourself, using methods popular in the 1890s. Then take a thrilling ride on the White Pass and Yukon Railway and view spectacular waterfalls and lush foliage as the train traverses the rugged wilderness that dominates this region.

HUBBARD GLACIER

AN ICY MARVEL

HUBBARD GLACIER

Among the many words used to describe Hubbard Glacier, 'humbling' is perhaps the most appropriate for North America's largest tidewater glacier. It is 122 kilometres (76 miles) long and more than 9 kilometres (six miles) wide where it meets the ocean. It is approximately 183 metres (600 feet) tall at its terminal face — 107 metres (350 feet) exposed above the waterline and 76 metres (250 feet) below. It is also over 610 metres (2,000 feet) thick at some locations, and the terminal face's ice originally fell as snow up to 500 years ago. From your blissful vantage point in an expedition boat in Disenchantment Bay, prepare to be thrilled by the crack of this Alaskan colossus calving into a suddenly roiled sea.

CINEMATIC MOUNT BIZAN

TOKUSHIMA, JAPAN

Spread across the base of Mount Bizan, a gentle summit offering panoramic views and a scenic ropeway ride, Tokushima is the welcoming capital of Tokushima Prefecture on Shikoku, Japan's smallest main island. The city is famed for Awa-Ai, a rich indigo dye used in traditional aizome textiles, and is a meaningful stop along the sacred Shikoku Henro pilgrimage, with four of its 88 temples nearby. Culinary highlights include dishes featuring sudachi, a fragrant local citrus that adds a bright note to noodles, seafood and seasonal fare.

MUMBAI, INDIA

RHYTHM OF LIFE

MUMBAI, INDIA

Feel the buzz of South Asian life in all its colours and charisma in the city formerly known as Bombay. Local life fills the streets, bustling markets abound and you never know if you'll find a temple or a modern shopping centre down any given street. This is the capital of Maharashtra state and the Hindi film and TV industry's Bollywood capital, too. A driving tour takes you past some of Mumbai's most iconic landmarks, like the Gateway of India arch, as well as more everyday scenery — perhaps people chanting in prayer or a look at the Dhobi Ghat, where workers huddle over hundreds of pieces of clothing each day at an open-air laundry.

YEOSU, SOUTH KOREA

This picturesque city encompasses the 365 islands — 49 are inhabited — of the sprawling Yeosu peninsula on South Korea's East China Sea coast. Historically critical as headquarters of the Korean navy during the Joseon (Yi) dynasty (1392–1910), Yeosu underwent a dramatic modernisation when it hosted the 2012 World Expo and today offers a blend of verdant hills, glistening seas and striking architecture. Yeosu is a renowned foodie haven, with restaurants serving traditional fare like egg cockles, gulgui (grilled oyster) and spicy kimchi made with locally grown mustard leaves.

MODERN TO SUBLIME

TOKYO, JAPAN

The sprawling metropolis of Tokyo is an engaging capital city of 12 million people. Yet, the bustle will seem incredibly distant from the top of the Tokyo Tower, the second-highest structure in Japan. Be sure to journey to the Ginza shopping and entertainment district, where the merchandise tends to be more modern and fashionable. Here you will also find one of the best culinary scenes in the country. For a more traditional view, journey to Asakusa to visit the city's oldest temple, Senso-ji. Adjacent to the temple is a five-storey pagoda, Shinto shrine, the Asakusa Shrine, as well as many shops with traditional goods in the Nakamise-dori.

TATAPOURI REEF WALK & STINGRAY FEEDING

GISBORNE, NEW ZEALAND

Wade out to a rock shelf off Tatapouri and watch the abundant marine life such as stingrays, fish and octopuses swimming around the reef. Marine life is plentiful here, and chances are you will see Down Under's most iconic sea creatures. The water is usually teeming with short-tail rays, which look particularly graceful as they glide along the shallow reef. Eagle rays are also common and can easily be distinguished from stingrays by their long, whip-like tails. Both species feed on fish, so you can also expect to see yellowtail kingfish, which in turn feed on trevally.

FORT-DE-FRANCE, MARTINIQUE

LUSH ISLAND

FORT-DE-FRANCE, MARTINIQUE

You will be cheering 'Vive la France' during your time in Fort-de-France. The capital of Martinique boasts beautiful French architecture, such as the Cathédrale Saint-Louis, several French-built forts and pristine beaches that rival those of the Riviera. All roads lead to La Savane, a serene central park overseen by a statue of Empress Josephine. Among the must-see attractions for nature lovers is the Balata Tropical Gardens in Martinique's lush countryside. Take in fragrant flowers, exotic water lilies, rare indigenous plants and shaded trails. Stroll through the footbridge situated in the trees for the ultimate vantage point.

KEY WEST, FLORIDA

BOHEMIA

KEY WEST, FLORIDA

Discover the relaxed pace, storybook architecture and carnival-like street life of the southernmost point of the continental U.S. — the famed bohemian enclave of Key West. This flower-scented little city island is a haven for famous writers, former hippies, and sun seekers from all over the world. You are sure to experience it all as the island is just 3.2 kilometres (2 miles) wide by 6.4 kilometres (4 miles) long. Beyond its sun-soaked streets, Key West invites you to indulge in moments both timeless and decadent — from sipping hand-shaken mojitos beneath swaying palms to exploring private gardens once visited by presidents and painters alike. Whether you choose to sail turquoise waters aboard a glass-bottom catamaran or unwind in the shaded elegance of a historic porch, the island's carefree spirit is matched only by its quiet sophistication.

LIMING & LOUNGING IN ST. KITTS

BASSETERRE, ST. KITTS & NEVIS

Gently rising from the shimmering waters off St. Kitts, a stunning array of white, grey and black sand beaches trace the island's perimeter. Lush green mountains form the interior, providing an ideal habitat for the monkeys that seem to outnumber the people on the island. On St. Kitts, the locals have a special word for hanging out: liming. The most popular place to lime is in the sand and the sun while the sounds of reggae drift in from the beachside bars. When you're ready for a change of pace, experience zip-lining through the Valley of the Giants Rainforest or consider exploring Brimstone Hill Fortress National Park, a UNESCO World Heritage site.

GO WITH THE FLOW

FALMOUTH, JAMAICA

Falmouth stands out as one of the Caribbean's most authentically preserved historic towns, where laid-back island life meets echoes of a colonial past. Once a booming hub for sugar exports, the town still boasts stately Georgian mansions alongside quaint wooden cottages. You'll find real-deal jerk spots near the waterfront, and for something slower-paced, float down the Martha Brae River on a bamboo raft, gliding through thick greenery and passing tropical trees like the ackee. Notable sights include the old courthouse and St. Peter's Anglican Church.

THE GEM OF NAPLES

SORRENTO/CAPRI, ITALY

The island of Capri is the gem of the Bay of Naples and easily reached via ferry or hydrofoil from Sorrento. In Capri, you will marvel at the whitewashed homes and villas, fragrant lemon trees and flower-filled courtyards. While on the island, you should be sure to visit the Grotta Azzurra (Blue Grotto), which is only accessible by boat. Once inside the cave, witness the water's sapphire colour, which is caused by the light refraction from the hidden opening in the rock.

ROVINJ, CROATIA

NEW PORT

ADRIATIC ALLURE

ROVINJ, CROATIA

Rovinj, perched on the western edge of Croatia's Istrian Peninsula, rises from the Adriatic like a sun-warmed mosaic of stone and sea. Once a humble fishing port, the town now charms visitors with its old Venetian houses packed tightly along the waterfront and narrow cobbled streets that wind their way up to the hilltop Church of St. Euphemia. Within the Old Town, discover art galleries, tucked-away boutiques and open-air cafés filled with the scent of espresso. Indulge in Italian-inspired cuisine paired with crisp local wines. Then head inland to explore Istria's lush countryside, where medieval hill towns, rolling vineyards, olive groves and the earthy aroma of truffles create a feast for all the senses.

GEM BY THE SEA

PIOMBINO, ITALY

Perched on a coastal promontory in southern Tuscany, Piombino blends ancient history with seaside charm. Just beyond the town, the Archaeological Park of Baratti and Populonia reveals the ruins of a once-thriving Etruscan city. In town, a stroll through the medieval gateway leads to Piazza Bovio, offering sweeping views of the Tuscan Archipelago. Piombino is also the gateway to Elba, where visitors can sunbathe on pristine beaches or explore Napoleon's island retreat. With historic landmarks, nearby archaeological treasures, and easy access to some of Italy's loveliest shores, Piombino invites discovery at every turn.

ANCIENT DISCOVERIES

ARGOSTOLI, GREECE

Journey beyond the turquoise bay with colourful fishing boats of Argostoli to visit the archaeological museum and explore the rich artefacts of the Mycenean culture. Also be sure to travel to the Drogarati Cave to witness incredible stalactites hang from the ceiling like jagged curtains, and ancient stalagmites reach up from the rocky floor in red, orange, yellow and white. Inside the 100-million-year-old cave's Chamber of Exaltation, the acoustics are considered near perfect, and concert events are often held in its capacious interior. Even the famed opera soprano Maria Callas sang here.

MILOS, GREECE

NEW PORT

PAINTED HORIZONS

MILOS, GREECE

With more than 70 beaches brushed in hues of crimson, rose and amber, all shimmering against the turquoise Aegean, Milos might just be the most colourful jewel among the Greek Isles. The surreal beauty of Sarakiniko, where white volcanic rock shapes a dreamscape like the moon, is unforgettable. Kleftiko's dramatic cliffs and secret sea caves tell tales of pirates and time. Wander the cobbled alleys of Plaka, the island's chalk-white capital, where the famed Venus de Milo was discovered. Then unwind in Pollonia, a quaint fishing village where you can sip local wines and sample cheeses that are carefully aged in volcanic caves.

SPLIT, CROATIA

DIOCLETIAN'S PALACE

SPLIT, CROATIA

In Split, pay a visit to the retirement palace of Diocletian, deemed by UNESCO as one of the best-preserved Roman royal residences in the world. Built between AD 295 and 305, the imposing ruins of the Roman emperor's home can be found throughout the heart of Split, the city that grew up around the palace. Diocletian spared no expense in the construction, importing marble from Italy and Greece, plus columns and sphinxes from Egypt. The palace was built from lustrous white limestone from the nearby island of Brac. Within the palace boundaries are over 200 buildings, monuments, shops and restaurants, plus homes for about 3,000 people.

EPIC LANDSCAPES & TURF ROOFS

TÓRSHAVN, DENMARK

Expect steep cliffs, narrow fjords and jagged mountains covered with greener-than-green pastures on the southeast coast of Streymoy, the largest of the isles that comprise the Faroe Islands, an autonomous territory of Denmark. Emerald-turfed houses and modern buildings stand side by side in Tórshavn, the country's capital. Admire red-painted buildings that date back centuries in Tinganes, Tórshavn's oldest section, where Norwegian colonists placed their 'ting' (parliament) in 825. Visit the quaint, white, slate-roofed Tórshavn Cathedral and modern Nordic House, which is said to capture the essence of Faroese culture. Head to Streymoy's mountainous north for otherworldly scenery, Viking-founded villages and wild waterways.

VOLCANIC GRANDEUR

HEIMAEY, ICELAND

This small, vibrant isle is the largest of Iceland's Westman Islands and hosts the largest nesting population of Atlantic puffins anywhere in the world. The waters around this volcanic locale are often ideal for spotting various marine life, including orcas and fin whales. In January 1973, a vast fissure burst open, creating a new volcano called Eldfell that buried 400 buildings and provided enough geothermal energy to heat Heimaey for nine years. Exhibits at the Eldheimar Museum provide more eruption details, though the greatest exhibit of all is the 201-metre (660-foot) high volcano. You'll also find a 15th-century harbour fort, a world-class aquarium and a folk museum.

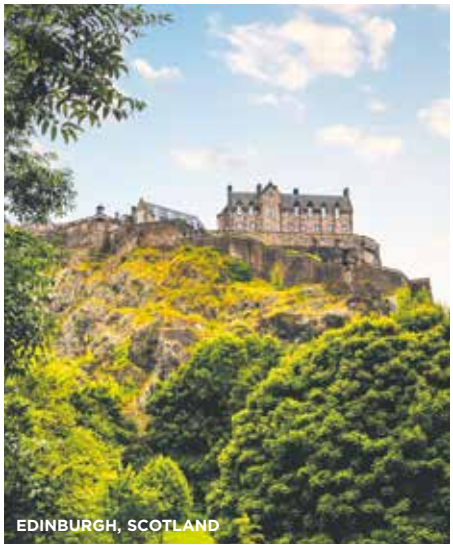
BELFAST, NORTHERN IRELAND



EDINBURGH, SCOTLAND

CASTLE IN THE CLOUDS

EDINBURGH, SCOTLAND

Take in the spectacular Edinburgh Castle sitting atop an outcrop of sheer granite cliffs. It anchors one end of the famed Royal Mile, an area approximately one mile long that extends down to Holyrood Palace, the official Scottish residence of King Charles III. As you crisscross the streets in this phenomenally scenic Old Town, you will get a sense of what life here was like centuries ago. The streets are busy, narrow and lined with towering buildings Edinburgh-born Robert Louis Stevenson once described as 'a dream in masonry'.

ENGAGING & UNSPOILED

SANTANDER, SPAIN

Framed by green, mountainous landscapes and white beaches, you'll quickly ease your pace at this picturesque bayside city in Spain's Cantabria region. Built atop a glorious peninsula and used as a summer residence by Spanish royals in the early 20th century, the Magdalena Palace offers a taste of history and panoramic views of Santander Bay. Centro Botín, which reinvigorated the city's seafront upon its opening in 2017, has been described as "Santander's Guggenheim" — a nod to the Frank Gehry-designed museum in nearby Bilbao. In the city's fishing district, dine on traditional local cuisine such as fried squid or fisherman-style clams.

THE GUGGENHEIM MUSEUM
BILBAO, SPAIN

ARCHITECTURAL WONDER

BILBAO, SPAIN

Bilbao has many things to do, see and eat, and its urban beauty provides the perfect setting to keep you in awe. The Guggenheim Museum Bilbao, designed by Frank Gehry, takes up much of the modern landscape, clad in swirls of titanium, limestone and huge glass panes. Another architectural wonder is the Vizcaya Bridge, a towering latticework of metal. If the design reminds you of the Eiffel Tower, it's no coincidence; the bridge's architect was a student of Gustave Eiffel.

CHILEAN ADVENTURES

PUNTA ARENAS, CHILE

Although located in a fairly remote part of the world, Punta Arenas is a surprisingly large town with over 100,000 residents and ample opportunities for adventure. You can start with a stroll through the tree-filled central square of Plaza Muñoz Gamero and stop at a street vendor for a savoury sopaipilla: a fried, puffed flatbread served with a spicy Chilean salsa. Marvel at the stunning pastoral landscape of a local sheep farm or simply take a moment to reflect while gazing out over the mysterious blue waters of the Strait of Magellan. For an excursion you'll never forget, visit Magdalena Island to watch the entertaining antics of the resident penguins.

GULLFOSS WATERFALL
FROM REYKJAVIK, ICELAND

THE HARMONY OF FIRE & ICE

REYKJAVIK, ICELAND

Although it's one of the smallest capitals in the world, the city of Reykjavik is home to two-thirds of Iceland's population and exists in harmony with its beautiful, natural surroundings. It's the ideal place to immerse yourself in the local culture. Discover Iceland's fascinating relationship with and dependence on the sea at the Reykjavik Maritime Museum. Stroll through the lush botanical gardens or take in the scenic countryside on a day trip to Geysir, an erupting hot spring. For a new culinary adventure, try some hákarl, the national dish of Iceland, which consists of fermented shark meat, or play it safe and order a traditional fish stew.

TRINITY COLLEGE
DUBLIN, IRELAND

A LITERARY DELIGHT

DUBLIN, IRELAND

As it's the birthplace of some of the world's greatest literary figures — Beckett, Joyce, Shaw, Wilde, Yeats — one can't help but wonder what it is about Dublin that so inspires. If you spend some time in the city, you'll begin to understand. It's the strong sense of community embodied in its pub culture, in the churches seemingly on every corner, and in the sprawling parks where residents gather to commune with nature. From the ancient books in Trinity College's Old Library to the story of Guinness and his iconic beer, Dublin's heritage is rich indeed. So, enjoy a few pints at a local pub, make some new friends and see if inspiration strikes.
